I understand that Colorado state law requires the owners of certain buildings to provide certain information regarding energy use of their buildings to the Colorado Energy Office. I understand that in order to comply with the state, building owners need to obtain the information from utility companies like Poudre Valley REA. I understand that, in accordance with state law, the information provided by Poudre Valley REA for multi-member buildings is aggregated for the entire building and therefore does not disclose the energy data for individual utility members. I understand that because my building has fewer than four utility members, Poudre Valley REA requires the owner of my building to obtain my consent prior to Poudre Valley REA releasing my information to the building owner. The information that Poudre Valley REA may release to the building owner may include, but is not limited to, (i) the building's monthly energy use; (ii) the annual maximum electricity demand; and (iii) the monthly peak electricity demand from your Poudre Valley REA meter.

I hereby consent to Poudre Valley REA sharing the above energy use data with the owner of my building.
